IMPORTANT NOTE

Interpretation

1. This document must be read together with the Minimum Financial Requirements and Administrative Guidelines 2026 (MFRs and Guidelines).
2. Terms defined in the MFRs and Guidelines when used in this document, have the same meaning.

Important Conditions of Maximum Construction Capacity

3. Maximum Construction Capacity (MCC) is a condition of registration

Complying with the Registered Building Practitioner's Maximum Construction Capacity (MCC) is a Minimum Financial Requirement (MFR) under the MFRs and Guidelines and therefore a condition of registration.

The Registered Building Practitioner's Total Value of Domestic Building Work at any point in time must not exceed the MCC unless otherwise approved in writing by Victorian Building Authority, trading as the Building and Plumbing Commission (BPC).

4. Obligation to seek approval before exceeding MCC

If entering into a new domestic building contract would cause, or is likely to cause, the Registered Building Practitioner's construction capacity to exceed the MCC, the Registered Building Practitioner must obtain written approval from the BPC before entering into that contract.

5. Consequences of breach

Exceeding the MCC without prior written approval from BPC may constitute a breach of the Registered Building Practitioner's conditions of registration, resulting in regulatory action, including immediate suspension of registration, the imposition of additional conditions, reduction of the MCC, the requirement to enter into a MFR Agreement, or any other action available to BPC under the MFRs and Guidelines or the Building Act 1993 (Vic).

Failure to comply with an approved plan under a MFR Agreement may result in further regulatory action.

6. Obligations to notify BPC of material changes

The Registered Building Practitioner's adjusted net tangible assets (ANTA) and corresponding MCC are determined in accordance with the MFRs and Guidelines and based on information provided by the practitioner, including any supporting material relied upon by BPC.

The Registered Building Practitioner must notify BPC of any material change to its financial position, risk profile, ownership structure, business operations (including notification of an insolvency or external administration event), or any other matter that may affect its ability to comply with the MFRs as detailed in the MFRs and Guidelines.

The Registered Building Practitioner acknowledges the BPC may face loss and damage if any of the information provided to the BPC has, or is likely to become, incomplete, incorrect or misleading, and must therefore notify BPC immediately upon becoming so aware.

7. MCC is based on information supplied and subject to change

BPC may review, vary, reduce, suspend or revoke the Registered Building Practitioner's MCC at any time, impose additional conditions, or require entry into, and compliance with, a plan under a MFR Agreement where:

- (a) the Registered Building Practitioner's circumstances and risk profile materially change;
- (b) an audit or investigations by BPC suggest that the Registered Building Practitioner no longer satisfies the requirements of the MFRs and Guidelines or has breached any of the MFRs;
- (c) information previously provided to BPC by the Registered Building Practitioner was inaccurate, incomplete or misleading; or
- (d) a review is necessary to protect the interests of consumers.
